

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

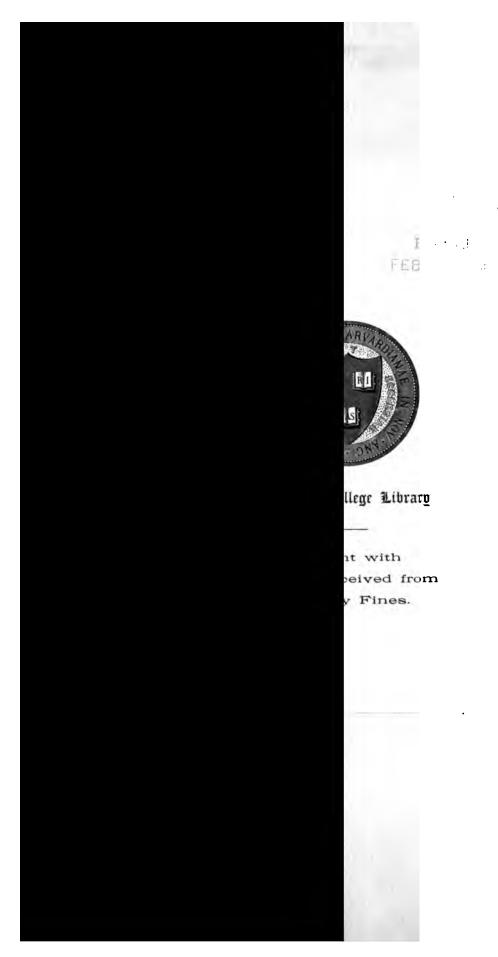

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

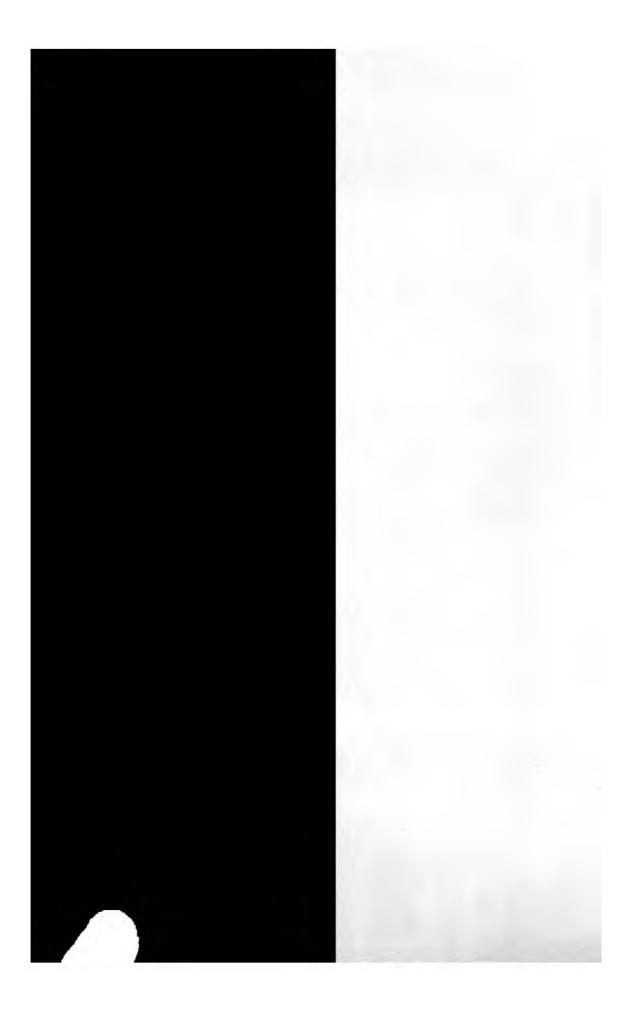

About Google Book Search

The Bibliographer

THE most important book sale Atnounced for this seeson is that of the magnificent library of the late Howard J. Goodwin, which will take place in Philadelphia at Davis & Harvey's, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Oct. 22, 23 and 24, commencing each day at 2.30 o'clock. The first part unly of the library will be sold by Stan. V.
Henkels, auctioneer, who has prepared a heautiful catalogue, with reproductions or some of the finest bindings. The catalogue describes this collection as absolutely the linest books ever offered the American pubinest books ever offered the American public. It is the library of a bibliomaniac rather than of a bibliophile, however, as Mr. Goodwin purchased expensive books of modern issue, in the finest procurable bindings, rather than collecting along a special line or for use.

Mr. Goodwin, who was cashler and confidential man for Cassatt & Company, bankers and brokers in Philadelphia, killed himself late one night last December in the offices of his employers. It was said of him that aside from his stock speculations, his that aside from his stock speculations, his only extravagance was book buying, and as a single instance of his prodigality in this direction it is releted that he was under contract when he died to pay $130,000 on subscriptions for costly and limited editions. To what extent Goodwin carried his hibliomania is shown by the catalogue of the first part of his library. The collection is appraised at $300,000, but it is said to have cost $450,000. Mr. Goodwin died a defaulter to the extent of something like $1,000,000, according to the bill of complaint $1,000,000; according to the bill of complaint filed in court by his employers against his estate, and the coming sale of his library ts to satisfy the claim allowed by the court. When a boy of thirteen, Goodwin entered the service of Mr. Cassatt, the brother of the president of the Pennsylvania Raliroad, an office boy. When the firm's bookdied several years later young Gooded for the place and Mr. Cassatt at him, but told him he might try.

entered the credits on the of the ledger his employer thought to hope for the boy; but he per-mastered his task. For twentywas a trusted employee of the ig the last two or three years and Mr. Lloyd, another memwere away much of the time in, who carried a power of ich, was the active head of title or no check upon him ate with the firm's money, largely in Consolidated Lake Superior stock and other doubtful issues which are now hardly worth the paper they are printed on. The news that he was a defautter and in such a large amount came as a shock to everyone who knew him, as he lived in a very quiet, unostentatious way with his wife and one child in Ridicy Park, near Philadelphia. He was in no sense a scholarly man, but he had good taste in books, a certain appreciation of literature and let no expense stand in the way of his getting what he really wanted in the way of book treasures. He was known among his friends as the possessor of a rare library, but the as the possessor of a rare library, but the general public had no idea that he was facile princeps among the bibliomaniacs of Philadelphia, for he was that rather than a real bibliophile.

Among the most interesting items in this collection are the "Alken books," in first editions, which are much sought by collectors. Those are the sporting books issued in London between 1821 and 1846, with plates by Henry Alken, Rowlandson and others. This set includes the "Real Life in London," "A Cockney's Shooting Senson in Suffolk," "The National Sports of Great Britain," "Real Life in Ireland," "Memoirs of John Mytton," "The Life of a Sportsman," Jorrock's Jaunts and Jollities" and "The Analysis of the Hunting Field." Of these "The Life of a Sportsman" is one of the rarest, the copy in the French is one of the rarest, the copy in the French sale in this city fetching $160. There is a fine, uncut copy of the original edition of "Blake's Illustrations of the Book of Joh," the twenty-two plates being as clean as on the day of issue. There is a full set of sporting novels of Surtees and a full set of sporting novels of Surtees and a full set of the Coaching Library, thirteen volumes—which are all first editions except two—is included. The "Edition des Aquarelles" of "Courtiers and Favorites of Royalty," limited to twenty-six sets of twenty volumes, cost Mr. Goodwin $1000. In the same line are also the autograph edition of Cooper's works, twenty-three volumes, limited to ten copies; the autograph edition of Dumas, sixty volumes, (ten copies printed); the edition de bibliophile of Hugo's works, forty-two volumes, Japanese vellum (250 printed); author's au-Japanese vellum (250 printed); author's au-tograph edition of Kingsley's works, four-teen volumes (ten printed); same edition of Lever's works, thirty-seven volumes (twen-ty-six printed); same edition of Parkman's

REMARKS.

THE reputation of the late Howard T. Goodwin, Esq., as a collector of the rarest books and the most sumptuous editions of the works of favorite authors, is so well-known that it is unnecessary for us to make any comments further than to say, that in the opinion of experts and connoisseurs, it is the finest collection of books ever offered at public sale, either in Europe or America.

The editions are the very best. The subscription books are those that were limited to a very few copies, and the bindings are simply supurb. Every book in the library is richly bound by the most noted of the craft, including fine specimens of the work of Cobden Sanderson, The Hampstead Bindery, The Guild of Women-Bookbinders, Fazakerley, David, Marcel, Bécourt, Zaehnsdorf, Riviere, Hayday, Bedford, Matthews, Pfister, Worsfold, Tout, Root & Son, Macdonald, Blackwell, Lautig, Morrell, Stikeman and others of note.

The books are all in elegant condition, and are thoroughly described, both as to rarity and conditions. A glance over the pages of the Catalogue will give to the reader a better idea of the many rarities than we have space here to notice.

The Oil Paintings, while not being works of the great masters, are really very beautiful, and by artists who are fast gaining reputations. The Water Colors embrace a great variety, are pleasing both in conception and detail, and include the work of many noted colorists.

Parts II. and III. of this Catalogue will follow soon, and will include First Editions of English and American Anthors; a very large collection of Extra Illustrated Books; Publication of William Loring Andrews; The Grolier Club of New York; Kelmscott Press; The Essex House Press; The Vale Press; Elegant Editions of Favorite Authors; Special Publications; Elegant Art Works; Rare Americana, etc.; all superbly bound.

We wish it distinctly understood that every Book enumerated in this Catalogue belongs to the Estate of Howard T. Goodwin, Deceased.

STAN. V. HENKELS.

REMARKS.

THE books described in this Catalogue embrace the second portion of the Library of the late Howard T. Goodwin, of Philadelphia, and fully sustain his reputation of owning many of the rarest books in the English language, bound in the most sumptuous manner.

In this portion of the Library are brought together his collection of the First Editions of Lamb, Keats, Shelley, Rossetti, Thackeray, Dickens, Scott, Cowper, Milton, Dr. Johnson, Marryat, Lytton, and other noted authors, many of them being special copies, and all superbly bound, including a few presented by the authors. There are also many unusual volumes of great rarity, with special bindings, embracing selections from The Kelmscott Press, The Vale Press, The Essex House Press, and numerous other privately printed books, as well as quite a number of costly works on the fine arts.

The works of standard authors include the leading writers of England and America, mostly limited editions, specially and sumptuously bound to order.

The bindings are the work of the leaders of the craft in England, France and America, exhibiting the most beautiful workmanship and the most delicate taste, only obtained by a lavish outlay of money and time.

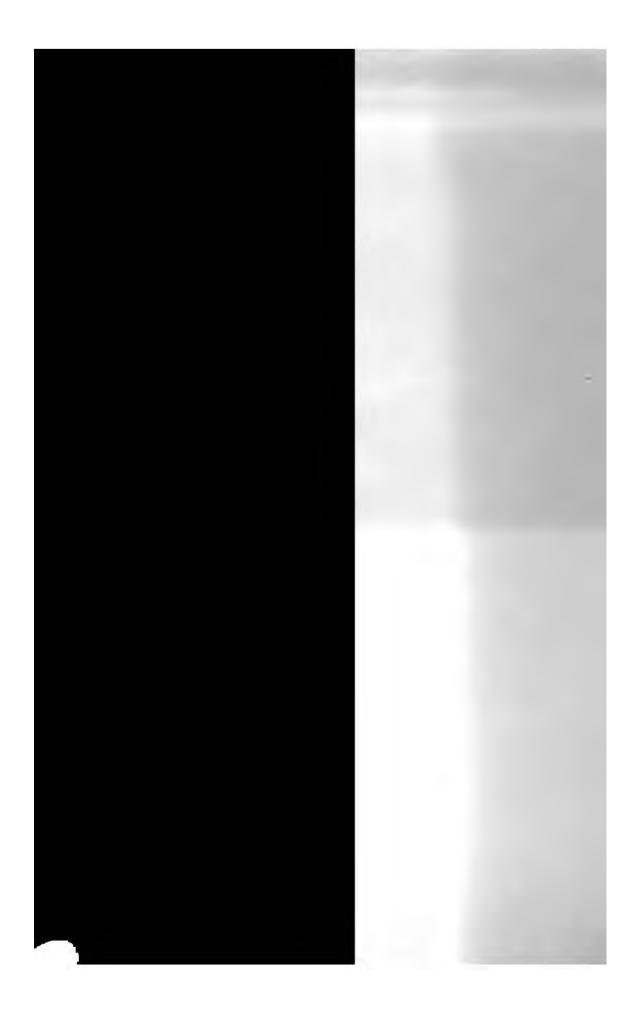

There are also valuable original drawings by Sir Thomas Lawrence, Angelica Kauffmann, Rosa Bonheur, F. O. C. Darley, Hablot K. Browne, and other noted artists; some few choice Autograph Letters and Manuscripts, many fine Etchings, and a fine collection of Water Color Paintings.

To The Photo-Chromotype Engraving Company, of Philadelphia, we are indebted for the many beautiful reproductions of the bindings, as well as for the facsimile titles.

Catalogue Part III. will follow shortly, and will include an unusual collection of Extra-illustrated Books, as well as many literary rarities.

We wish it distinctly understood that every book in this Catalogue belongs to the Estate of the late Howard T. Goodwin.

STAN. V. HENKELS.

The Germ:

Changhts towards Nature

In Paetry, Literature, and Art.

When whoso merely hath a little thought
Will plainly think the thought which is in him,—
Not imaging another's bright or vim,
Not mangling with new words what others taught;
When whoso speaks, from habing either sought
Or only found,—will speak, not just to skim
A shallow surface with words made and trim,
Out in that very speech the matter brought:
Be not too keen to cry—"So this is all!—
A thing X might myself have thought as well,
Out would not say it, for it was not worth!"
Ask: "Is this truth?" for is it still to tell
That, be the thems a paint or the whole earth,
Truth is a circle, perfect, great or small!

REMARKS.

THIS Catalogue embraces the third and last part of the Howard T. Goodwin Library. Like the other parts, it is peculiarly rich in the most elaborate specimens of bindings by Lortic, Riviere, Zaehnsdorf, The Guild of Women-Binders, Matthews, Bradstreet, Fazakerley, and others of the craft noted for their beautiful workmanship.

The special feature of this sale is the unusual number of Extra Illustrated Books, all of which are bound in the most elegant manner, including Irving's Life of Washington, Sargent's Major André, Guizot's France, Ireland's Book-Lover's Enchiridion, Froissart and Monstrelet's Chronicles, Walton and Cotton's Angler, Life of Edmund Kean (in eight folio volumes), Irving's Life and Letters, Publications of the Club of Odd Volumes, Life of Cruikshank, Many Theatrical Biographies, and other works of Historical and Literary interest. These are accumulated under one heading in the latter part of the Catalogue.

The collection is also rich in the Publications of William Loring Andrews, The Grolier Club, the writings of American statesmen, and many items in rare and scarce Americana.

There are also choice editions of the works of favorite English, French and American authors, Specially Printed Books, Elegant Art Works, and The Famous Saint Dunstan Edition of Dickens, Shakespeare's Sonnets, Browning's Sonnets from the Portuguese, and Fitzgerald's Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam, printed on vellum and illustrated at a cost of $1000 per volume.

The Water Color Paintings are of a very interesting class, by popular artists, and include many subjects of a pleasing character.

We wish it distinctly understood that every Book and Painting mentioned in this Catalogue belongs to the Estate of the late Howard T. Goodwin.

This work is the greatest ever gotten up on the Holy Land. The artist had, before his journey, acquired a reputation for his skill and judgment in the treatment of architectural subjects; consequently he was well equipped, as his drawings prove, to render faithful reproductions of the many buildings of antiquity and interesting scenes in the land of the Bible. Mr. Roberts was provided with guards to accompany him everywhere and protect him from interruption whilst sketching, and he even obtained permission to enter every mosque he desired to visit, a privilege never before given to a Christian, and to this fact we are indebted for having presented to our view, for the first time, the interior architectural beauties and ceremonies of these interesting buildings. He afterward ascended the Nile and made drawings of almost every edifice from the extremity of Nubia to the Mediterranean. He crossed the desert by the route of the Israelites to Mount Sinai and by Akaba, and through the great valley of El Ghor to Petra, and thence to Hebron, making sketches of all objects of interest. He afterwards visited Jerusalem, reaching there the day before Palm Sunday, making many interesting sketches. He afterward visited the Dead Sea, the Lake of Tiberias, the sea coast and mountain range of Lebanon, and the ruins of Baalbec, devoting himself to the task of sketching so much that he was overtaken with a fever and was obliged to desist. The extraordinary merit of his drawings, when seen after his return home, created a sensation not easily forgotten. The fidelity of his accurate pencil, his skillful and rigid adherence to the truth of costume, his attention to just and characteristic effect, were acknowledged by all travellers and artists competent to judge. The demand for this work sprang out of the interest this excited, and to-day, as in the day of publication, it is held as the leading work on the subject, and for those who wish, but cannot expect to visit the Holy Land, a careful study of the subjects herein portrayed will act as a balm to their cravings.

The Play Bills, number 115, commencing with that of the Theatre Royal, Haymarket, Wednesday, Aug. 2, 1780, till Feb. 14, 1833, when he, Kean, appeared at the Theatre Royal, Brighton, as Othello.

There are also 12 original water colors and drawings, 9 views, 23 large caricatures, many by George Cruikshank. The work was extra illustrated by the late Augustin Daly. All the portraits were selected by him personally, and not inserted unless they had a certain degree of merit as to their artistic worth, or else were of a rare and scarce nature. With the work are bound many rare pamphlets, hundreds of newspaper clippings bearing on the subject, pertinent advertisements, broadsides, etc. We have mentioned above some of the rarities in the portraits and letters, but a personal examination is necessary to fully appreciate the unique character of the work, every page of which has been prepared with a special border. The title-pages are drawn and illustrated by hand.

2 vols. 8vo, full crushed crimson levant, gilt backs and beautifully gilded sides, iniaid with green levant, blue levant doublé, richly gilded, colored brocaded silk fly-leaves, polished gilt over marbled edges, by David.

London: Printed for Benj. Motte, at the Middle Temple-Gate, in Fleet-Street. MDCCXXVI.

Fine, clean copy of the first edition (exceedingly rare), with both titles, dated 1726. The title of Volume 2 differs from that in Volume 1, in the printer's address, on Volume 2 "in Fleet-Street" is left off. This is a peculiarity of the first edition, each volume is separately pagenated. This copy is in a remarkably clean condition. The book being very popular, most copies through that reason are in a dilapidated or imperfect condition.

Extra illustrated by the insertion of the set of etchings by Lefebvre and Lalauze. See facsimile of binding.
